CALL FOR PAPERS

Technical Conference Management is pleased to announce that the 2023 Decorative Surfaces Conference will be held in Hamburg, Germany, from September 18-20. The event is again sponsored by a group of leading companies: Munksjö, Hymmen, Arcolor, Agfa and Ava Cad/Cam have already expressed their commitment. Material + Technik and HK Holz- und Kunststoffverarbeitung will be our media partners.

In preparation for the event, we would like to issue the following call for papers. Abstracts for presentations can be submitted via e-mail to office@tcman.at by April 17, 2023.

As the conference language will be English, the text of the abstracts should be submitted in English, in a separate Word document.

The presentations are to focus on all topics on engineered décor materials, such as

- Technical and decorative laminates
- Thermoplastic foils
- Coatings
- Veneers

for both indoor and outdoor use.

Presentations dealing with topics related to the industry in general will also be considered with an eye toward rounding out our conference program. Speakers (one per paper) will not be required to pay the registration fee.

SPONSORING OPPORTUNITIES

TCM provides a wide variety of sponsoring opportunities at our 2023 Decorative Surfaces Conference, enabling you to enhance your visibility to both industry partners and customers alike, and contribute to the success and wider reach of the event.

- Company logo on conference brochures, website, etc.
- Table top display of promotion materials at the conference foyer throughout the conference
- Free admission for three company employees

Sponsoring of special events such as the conference dinner or a reception is available upon request. Please contact the organizer if you would like to become a sponsor of the conference.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULE

April 17, 2023: Submission of proposals

May 19, 2023: Notification of accepted papers

Please note that we no longer require speakers to submit a written version of their paper.
