Introducing the DIPA Association:

Shaping the Future of Digital Surface Treatments

Join us on March 5, 2025, for the DIPA AI Training Day, a unique opportunity to explore the ambitions and innovations driving the digital surface treatment sector. As part of the Decorative Surfaces Conference in Vienna, this workshop emphasizes the importance of collaboration and collective growth within the industry - because we are stronger together. This exclusive event will feature insights from leading experts and innovators in digital printing technology and software solutions. Key speakers include Oliver Baar from Koenig & Bauer Digital & Webfed, Carsten Brinkmeyer Anlagenbau, and Frank De Jonge from Neos Srl, who will present groundbreaking projects in digital print machinery. Additionally, software specialists such as Duncan Ross from AvaCadCam, and experts from ColorGate as well as from CGS Oris will share their expertise and case studies. The afternoon session offers a truly interactive experience, focusing on prompting for de-laborate to generate design files that can be used for future projects, gaining handson experience in team-based design workflows. Participants will also receive access to all files created during the workshop, providing valuable resources to share with their teams. This workshop is designed for creatives across the surface decoration market - whether you're working on wallpaper, textiles, décor, or marketing projects. If you're passionate about exploring new possibilities in digital printing and surface design, this event is for you.

CONFERENCE DINNER

Our traditional conference dinner will be held on March 6 at 7:30pm at Marchfelderhof, outside Vienna. Our buses will leave at 7:00pm from the Hilton Hotel.
